Book Buyback FAQs

How does buyback work at school?

At the designated buyback time and location, we will scan each book, evaluate the condition and determine the value of your book(s). If you wish to sell, give us the book and we will send you a check for the value within 30 days.

Can I return a book I rented from Follett at buyback?

Yes! Bring the rented book along with the books you wish to sell and we'll check it in at the same time.

What books will you buy back?

We buy back the books students will need next year. We will also buy books for other Follett Virtual Bookstores where inventory is needed. We will not buy back some soft cover books or books students typically need to write in for classes.

In what condition do books need to be to sell?

If you would not be happy buying the book from us later, we likely won't take it back now. Excessive highlighting or markings, water damage, torn or missing pages or broken bindings may disqualify a book from buyback.

How much can I expect to receive for my book?

A general guideline is 40% of the new book price if the book will be used again at your school, but prices are determined by book condition and demand for the book.

How do I sell books back online?

Go to your virtual bookstore website (found under the Follett logo on this page) or efollett.com and select your school. Then click the "Sell Books" link and follow the on-screen instructions.

How do I ship my books back?

As part of your online buyback, you will print out a packing slip and mailing label. Secure your book(s) and the packing slip in a box and attach the mailing label. Boxes are better than envelopes so your book doesn't get damaged in transit (and lose value). Take your box to a local post office to send it back to us at no charge.

When can I expect payment for books I send in?

You can expect to receive payment by check 30 days after we receive your books and verify their condition.

How can I find out more?
