

Maimo celebrates Israel

From kindergarteners to 12th graders, they danced in the courtyard at Maimonides School in Brookline to celebrate Israeli Independence Day last week. Elementary school students played Israeli-themed games, made crafts and painted their faces. Middle and upper school students waged color wars, competing in sports, dance, song and cheers. At left first graders Oriah Jeselsohn (left) and Mikayla Lederman.